IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of Dad, Deacon T. H. McDaniel, who departed this life March 27, 1957.
We think of him with kind remembrance
Today as we did yesterday.
Yesterday, today and always
Thinking of him in our every way.
He loved to talk about the Lord
And attend services and read the Bible.
He raised his children up in church
In a Godly fashion, as he should.
We will always remember his golden rule.
He was sick for a while,
Although he met you with a smile.
Keep on fighter and take your rest,
We loved you but God loved you best.
He leaves to mourn a wife, 13 children, 40 grandchildren and 6 great grandchildren.
Sadly missed by daughter, Fannie Ferguson. (1tp)

And a voice I can never forget.

My memory of him will always grows old.

Victoria and Albert,
By Evelyn Anthony.

"The King is dead, God save the Queen." When Victoria heard these words, she was a tiny, blue-eyed, fair-haired girl, scarcely eighteen and bearing little resemblance to the formidable Widow of Windsor she later became. But this novel about Victoria the wife, not the widow, beginning with youth and marriage and ending, as a vital part of Victoria's life ended with the death of Albert, the only person she ever loved, Evelyn Anthony's portrait of the Queen and her consort is touching and moving.

Hope For More Farmers to Get Approval for Soil Bank Reserve

Floyd Fleshman, Chairman of the Appomattox County ASC Committee, reports that most farmers who wanted to take part in the 1958 acreage reserve of the Soil Bank, but could not file signed agreements because of fund limitations, apparently will be able to sign up at the county office in the near future.

Both the Senate and House of Representatives have approved a supplemental appropriation of 250 million dollars to provide for additional acreage reserve participation. This will bring the total to 750 million dollars for the 1958 program. Because agreement on some detailed program provisions must still be reached in House-Senate conference, Congressional action on the supplemental appropriation is not yet complete. As soon as final action is taken, the county committee will get the "go ahead" for completing the sign-up. Preliminary steps have been taken by the State ASC Committee to prepare the way for immediate action when the supplemental funds are authorized.

In addition to farmers who have already signed agreements, which were in general covered by the initial appropriation for the acreage reserve, other eligible farmers will be in position to take part in the enlarged program. These will include those whose names are on "waiting list" registers in the county office and possibly others where there is evidence that they made an attempt to participate during the sign-up period.

While it is expected that in general funds will be available to take care of all farmers who indicate that they would take part in the program if it was enlarged, there is a legislative annual limitation of 300 million dollars for the corn acreage reserve. Because the total of signed agreements and other applications on waiting lists would call for more than 300 million dollars, if all the corn applications were completed, some adjustment will be necessary for this crop.

Public notice will be given promptly when the County ASC office is ready to sign additional acreage reserve agreements. Mr. Fleshman says in the meantime the county office will be prepared to furnish general information but that farmers should not attempt to sign up agreements until official announcements are made.

Lime Plant Now Open

State Senator Chas. T. Moses is hopeful that local farmers will take advantage of the re-opening of the Appomattox Lime Plant. The plant was reopened March 18, as the result of necessary funds for operation being provided in legislation enacted, under Senator Moses' leadership, at the recent session of the General Assembly.

The Appomattox Lime Plant had been closed down since November 22, 1957, because of insufficient funds. This situation has been corrected, and is open for business.

Officially, Spring is here. But it is a bit difficult to convince farmers, who are cooling their heels waiting for a chance to get in their seasonal work. It might be summed up as "The Case of the Overdue Spring."

The current weather forecast is for: rain, showers, cloudy, cool,— simply more of the drippy weather prevailing most of March. And the temperature dips to the low 30's at night, and rarely gets up to 50 in daylight hours.

There is some hope for a bit of warmer weather by the week-end.

All of which is causing farmers to cast anxious eyes at the calendar. Will this be the year when one didn't even get his garden plowed? How about the water-soaked fields, normally plowed ere now for crops? And, there is a demand for hay, as late pastures are certain.

The unusual March weather has had another result: it has slowed business. Normal Easter buying has been delayed. Who needs an Easter bonnet when it is cold and raining outside? A backlog of spring merchandising is building up.

To be ready with attractive offerings as soon as Spring finally arrives, the Appomattox County Business Association met on Monday night, and set up committees to plan for a big Spring Community Promotion shortly.

Outdoor construction and road work is being delayed. The blanket winter in years has cost construction workers heavily in time lost from jobs. Many sizeable projects have remained at a standstill. Typical of the situation, English Construction Co., of Altavista, reported a loss of 96 days, working time since Nov. 1, on a big road project near here. That means loss of three weeks of five, in working time.

It looks up that a good portion of the "depressed atmosphere" in business circles is attributable to the Recession Spring" and that things will snap back to normal in a hurry when warm days finally arrive. There is a degree build-up of work to be done, purchases to be made, and seasonal activity in all lines: all waiting for the Weather Man to give the Green Light.
